

AFRICANS FOOD SOVEREIGNTY WORKING GROUP

Tuesday October 4, 2016 at 5:00pm

442 Stephens Hall, UC Berkeley

October meeting topic

Food Regimes and Food Movements: the historical basis for transformation?

Abstract

How do regimes and movements co-evolve from imperial, colonial and slave-based societies and what are the forms of resistance and the future challenges of the agrarian and agrofoods transition? This talk will analyze the capitalist roots of racism, classism and sexism in the current food regime and the histories of resistance in the United States and abroad.

Bio

Eric Holt-Gimenez is the Executive Director of Food First. He has worked for 35 years as an agronomist, agroecologist, lecturer, professor, researcher and extensionist with social movements in Latin America, United States and West and South Africa.

Facilitators

Elsadig Elsheikh | elsadig@berkeley.edu
Haas Institute for a Fair and Inclusive Society, UCB

Peiley Lau | peiley@berkeley.edu
Ph.D. Student in Agricultural And Resources Economics, UCB

The working group is an informal monthly-guided discussion and open to the public on a wide range of issues related to Africa's food systems.

The working group is supported by the Global Justice Program of the Haas Institute for a Fair and Inclusive Society at the UC Berkeley