

Food
 ●● Culture
 Collective

TRANSFORM THE NOW

RADICAL IMAGINATION COMICS

foodculture.org | @foodculturecltv | hello@foodculture.org

To create an irresistible future—where our world is shaped by mutual care, joy, and belonging with the land, waters, and people who nourish us—we first have to envision it. Today, as our world cracks open, what are we planting in the cracks? So much of our collective energy and imagination is spent fighting what we want to let go of, that we rarely ask ourselves, what are we growing in its place?

We believe that stories are seeds. So we invited Food Culture Collective community members to embrace radical imagination with us—to sow liberatory stories about our relationships to food and land—to transform culture. In this series of 4 comics, Food Culture Collective’s community-surfaced liberatory narratives about food, land, and belonging are brought to life—supplanting insidious narratives of extraction and exploitation with liberatory stories rooted in care, joy, and mutual belonging.

COMIC ART
ANJALI KAMAT

COMIC SCRIPT
SHIZUE ROCHE ADACHI

CREATIVE DIRECTION & LAYOUT
ADA CUADRADO-MEDINA

NARRATIVE DEVELOPMENT
JOVIDA ROSS, PUI-LING LEW &
ADA CUADRADO-MEDINA

